docSTAR™ Native File Management.

The power to help you get it together.

Use native intelligence to grow your business.

Native File Management gives you the power to store over 150 types of computer file formats in the docSTAR system — all in their true, original formats and retaining all the special features inherent in these documents. Whether it's a Word document, Excel spreadsheet, e-mail message, even a CAD drawing, our Native File Management module allows you to gather, store and access all documents, images and data related to a customer, employee or vendor together in one central location. Improving your customer service and making your entire operation more responsive, efficient and productive.

A true original.

docSTAR Native File Management:

- ★ Stores hundreds of different types of documents and files in docSTAR in their original format, protected against modification by AuthentiDate and USPS EPM.
- ★ Retains all the special features inherent in the original documents.
- ★ Eliminates the need to print, scan and convert documents to another format.
- ★ Centralizes document storage for fast, easy retrieval.
- ★ Allows you to modify and reuse existing documents without altering the originals.
- ★ Permits fast, simple archiving of emails for compliance with mandatory retention requirements.
- ★ Is ideal for smaller companies without a rigorous backup program or shared file space.

The advantages are easy to see.

Even if you don't have the native application on your workstation, you can still see documents in their original format in docSTAR using our convenient built-in viewer. And, because docSTAR employs Two Tier™ storage and the USPS Electronic Postmark (EPM), you'll enjoy a higher level of security and authenticity than you're getting from your current file server or local hard drives.
